Norwegian establishes a new base in Tenerife and expands the Spanish route network

Norwegian continues its expansion in Europe and today announced the opening of a new base of operations in Tenerife. Along with the new crew base, Norwegian expands its Spanish route network by adding more destinations and frequencies.

The new base at Tenerife South Airport (TFS) is Norwegian's fourth base in Spain, along with Alicante, Malaga and Las Palmas.

“Our new base at Tenerife is established to meet the great demand for quality flights at a low fare between Europe and this beautiful island. We see a major passenger potential between Spain, Germany and UK. The great response to our routes between Spain and the Nordic also encourages us to increase frequencies to our existing route map,” says Norwegian’s CEO Bjørn Kjos.

New German routes and increased number of flights

Norwegian opens two new routes between Berlin (SXF) and Gran Canaria and Tenerife starting on February 1 and 2, 2014, respectively. The airline also increases the number of flights between Hamburg and Malaga and Tenerife as well as between Malaga and Munich and Malaga and Köln.
