Norwegian releases flight tickets for spring 2025[?]

With the summer holidays just around the corner, travel plans for next year may seem far in the future, but today Norwegian is opening for tickets from the basic program which means that tickets for trips in the spring and early summer are open for booking. This initial launch includes tickets on 234 routes to 99 destinations from 30 March to 1 June 2025. More departures and destinations for the summer 2025 will be released later.

The departures that are made available today are for journeys in the period 30 March to 1 June 2025, and in total these are 5.3 million seats. Several of the winter season's exciting destinations such as Agadir, Dubai, Hurghada, Cairo and Marrakech are extended and continue in April.

“Many of our customers both like and want to plan trips well in advance, and it is great that we can now offer over five million seats for the coming spring. The least expensive tickets are usually sold first, so the earlier you book the better the offer you can get. This perhaps particularly applies to Easter,” said Magnus Thome Maursund, commercial director at Norwegian.

The number of routes and destinations in the Nordics in the period 30 years to 1 June 2025:

- Norway: 111 routes to 78 destinations
- Denmark: 58 routes to 56 destinations
- Sweden: 52 routes to 47 destinations
- Finland: 24 routes to 24 destinations

Norwegian operates with one summer and one winter program. The winter program starts at the end of October and lasts until the end of March. The company is now on its summer program and offers 340 routes to over 120 destinations.
